For more than 22 years The Tank Company has been supplying fuel, oil and water tanks to the marine industry. With over 27,000 tanks produced we know how to make them last!

Every tank that leaves our factory is individually water-jet cut, folded, hand fabricated and then TIG or MIG welded by coded welders. Every tank is individually pressure tested and then certified. Stringent quality control procedures ensure that you will have a tank to last a lifetime. Each tank has a unique serial number and build record. Rolled edges on many of our tanks provide structural integrity. Baffles are inserted as required together with any other reinforcement. Ports for fillers, take offs, breathers, senders and inspection hatches can be incorporated into your designs. Fluid level sender systems and tank hold down straps can also be supplied.

The company has ISO 9001 accreditation and tanks are made to ISO 10088 and Lloyd's approvals, but we can also accommodate other standards such as CAP437 & 434 for Aviation Fuel Storage and Der Norsk Veritas.
